[12 13 2 11 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 A CARD. [From the Rockingham Register.]

Having seen my name published in the American Union, of Harrisonburg, as a delegate to the Convention to be held in Richmond on the 1st day of August, 1 beg leave most respectfully to decline acting in that position. I have always been a free man, and take pleasure now in saying that I sympathized cordially with my white friends of the South in their late unfortunate struggle, so that I might be termed "a rebel colored men." My political opinions, so far as I have been capable of forming them, are in favor of the strictest conservative principles and justice. I wish the white people of the South to retain all the privileges which they ever possessed in voting and in holding of their property free from confiscation; and whits, I, of course, wish to see my own race advanced in intelligence and wealth, I do not desire this to be done unjustly at the expense of the whites who have always treated me kindly. I have been born and raised among the Virginia people, and know them to be an honorable people, and will be guilty of no act which tends to strike them down or degrade them. I am not a member of the Union League, nor can I consent to act with that party in their movements. I would advise all intelligent colored people to vote with the white conservatives. They have to live in the South, and the conservatives are their best friends. Let us avoid collisions .-Let us hamonize with our true friends. We super-phosphate in the market, yet, by a can trust the best people in the South. The cess peculiar in its manufacture, whereby the Yankees, if they get a good chance, will do as they did in Massachusetts. The radicals only want the votes of the colored people. They want power to prevent the restoration of the Union and peace. Have not our intelligent friends, the conservatives, shown a willingness to help us? Have they not helped to build our churches and school houses in the South? Why should well-disposed colored men in the South seek to enslave and injure and oppress their white friends? Will it do them any good? Will it make the white people their friends? Will they not, if we make ourselves their enemies, employ men and women of their own color, to the exclusion of our race?

Respectfully, JOSEPH T. WILLIAMS.

FARM WORK FOR AUGUST -The more pressing works of planting and cultivation give place now to comparative rest. Things may go more quietly and labor taken more coolly during the dog-days. The grain crops may be thrashed for market, or secured in barn or stacks, and the preparation for the coming crop made as fast as circumstances allow. Let all opportunities be taken, too, to accumulate materials for manure, and to get out from the yards what may be there,

Plowing for the fall seeding should be accomplished as early as practicable in this month. After corn working and harvest are over, all other work on a grain farm should give place to this when the ground is not too hard to admit of it. It is not only very desirable to have the plowing done early, but it is doubly so to avoid being thrown back so far in the season by the effects of drought as to prevent a proper preparation in due time. Plow to the full depth of eight inches; for although it is not well to sow on a deep loose bed, yet plowed sufficiently in advance of the seeding, assortment of BONNETS, in Crape, Illusion, the broken soil settles well and becomes sufficiently compacted. Then the operation of seeding with the drill or a shallow furrow makes such a seed bed as best suits the character of

If oat stubble is to be seeded in wheat, it is especially desirable to get it turned early and deep, that the straw may decay before being disturbed again. Let not the mistake be made of hauling the manure to the ground before plowing: First, because it is much better applied after; and second, because it postpones the plowing when it is particularly desirable to have it promptly done. Plow first and put on trouble to show goods. the manure after, scattering from the wagons instead of putting into piles on the field.

Prepare for sowing rye by the 1st of of September. Though not a popular, nor generally a profitable crop, a great deal depends upon its early sowing and due preparation of the ground. For a winter and spring pasture it is very useful, but the advantage is lost without errly sowing. Any time after the middle of August is suitable for it. A light loam, of m'oderate tertility, is the best soil for it.

BANKRUPTCY. - For the information of persons who wish to avail themselves of the benefits of the Bankrupt law, we publish the following carefully prepared instructions: As it is a ade the duty of the Register to examine, with a view to their accurracy of form, the petitions and schedules prepared under the eleven. h section of the Bankrupt act (voluntary bank suprey,) parties and their solicitors will spare themselves delay and trouble by observing the following rules:

Petitions and schedules must be legibly written or printed, without interlineations or erasures, upon paper substantially of the size of "legal cap," with a margin at least one inch broad along the head and left h and side of each

The eleven subdivisions of schedules A and B shall be filed in each case, the blanks being filled by using the word "none" where that is proper. The duplicate copy required to be fifed with the Register may be prepared by the celerk at the petitioner's expense, or by the petitioner. In the latter case it shall be certified by the clerk or verified as a true copy by affidavit .-The former method is preferred. After adjudication of Bankruptcy, and before a warrant to the messenger is issued, a receipt from the clerk for the deposit required as security for the Register's fees must be exhibited, and the messenger's fees mus be paid or secured, including the expenses of publica-

Peruvian Guano, of the best quality.
Bolivian Guano. This article comes from the same section as Peruvian, which it closely resembles in texture and appearance. It is much richer in Phosphate, but has loss Amonia. For stiff soils or stiff sub-soils it will answer quite as well as Peruvian, and it costs but two thirds the price of that article.

Mexican Guano, of four grades. Ground Bones. Whitelock's Cerealizer. The high reputation borne by this article as the most effective and reliable crop producer made in the United States, induces me to ask the farmer to test it alongside of any manure he may apply. Woolston's Amoniated Bone Phosphate, This article is manufactured by the same house, and contains all the best qualities of Peruvian Guano WM. H. IRWIN, and Ground Bones No. 5, south Union street. mh 28--ti GUANO-REED'S AMMONIATED SU-PERPHOSPHATE OF LIME. The best superphosphate yet offered to the farmer, possessing all the activity of Peruvian Guano, but being far more durable in its effects.

It contains a large amount of animal matter in a highly concentrated form, which, combined with its soluble bone phosphate of lime, cannot fail to render it very valuable as a fertilizer .expenses are lessened, we are enabled to sell it very low, with a liberal discount to dealers.
